PHILOSOPHY

The Schlow Centre Region Library Board of Trustees envisions the Library as our community's best and most sought after gathering place where all are welcome to pursue their interests, learn new skills, express their creativity, interact with other members of the community, and enhance their quality of life. To further this vision, the Library Director and Trustees are pleased to offer event spaces in the Library for use by the community.

POLICY

Library event spaces are available for community events and activities of a cultural, educational and civic nature that are free of charge and open to the general public. The spaces are not available for commercial, fund-raising, or private events. Event spaces are reserved according to the following priorities: the Library, the Schlow Library Foundation, Centre Area Transportation Authority (CATA), all other community groups.

Outdoor Spaces

The front steps, the protected arcade running the length of the Allen Street side of the building and the reserveable space at the corner of Beaver and Allen are subject to all conditions of this policy including no use of drugs, alcohol, or tobacco products.

Anyone wishing to use Library property outside the building at the corner of Beaver and Allen (see highlighted area on attached diagram) for speaking and/or distributing petitions, surveys, or other information not of a commercial and/or fund-raising nature, may do so after an application is approved by Library staff. Outdoor activities and equipment including but not limited to tables and signs must not block or hinder access to any parking, sidewalks, entrances, and exits, and must not harass or intimidate others.

Distribution of food and/or beverages in the Library's outdoor space requires State College Borough Health & Neighborhood Services approval. For more details, go to <http://www.statecollegepa.us/index.aspx?NID=430> or Room 221 in the Borough Building or call (814) 234-7191. Approved Borough forms must be submitted with completed Event Space Applications.

Due to pedestrian safety concerns, groups using the Library outdoor space will not be provided access to the Library's electrical outlets. In order to ensure that normal Library operations are not disturbed, no amplification equipment may be used in the outdoor space during regular Library hours as listed in the following section (Reservations).

No group reservations are taken for any other outdoor space on Schlow property with the exception of the corner of Beaver and Allen as described above.

The Library will typically contact groups within 10 working days to confirm or deny the request. Reservations are taken on a first come, first served basis. New applications must be completed for each period to ensure information is current.
